

Symmetry

The Dangerous Summer

I stayed awake just long enough to see you
Remember Winnipeg and feeling simpler back then?
I took a week off from my band and flew out
It was a Saturday, I saw you waiting by the plane

I was always in a way, just a long shot
I was never in the clear of that
I am lucky just to be a potential
But I will always make a mess of that, of that, of that

I traded symmetry for everything I loved
I took my feelings out and I had told you I was done
I know your mistakes, does that bother you
That I found where they stay? Can I reach you yet?

I stood up so fast and I let you down
It was the first time that I heard, I heard that sound
It filled my head with the darkest shade of black
And I met you there, I realized then
That I was just a little sad and I left you there

I was always in a way, just a long shot
I was never in the clear of that
I am lucky just to be a potential
But I will always make a mess of that

I was always in a way, just a long shot
I was never in the clear of that
I am lucky just to be a potential
But I will always make a mess of that

I was always in a way, just a long shot
I was never in the clear of that
I am lucky just to be a potential
But I will always make a mess of that

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by PAYNE, CODY MICHAEL/CZAP, BRYAN ALAN/MINSBERG, TYLER DAVID/PERDOMO, A.J.

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>