

Little Toy Gun

honeyhoney

i know you sat alone so many nights waiting for me. cold you face like a stone i hang up the phone when we disagree standing there right by my side when the fighting is done glaring at me in the light... is my little toy gun. shinning in black like shoes on a rack with a trigger thats dressed up in gold its always warm inside of my home but its handle is always so cold whispering in tyo my ear, all the lies he`s spun. my single greatest faer is my little toy gun wait for the day when i can save face and come to a happy home i know its turning to the kinda girl who`d rather be alone .just wait till i get my way -i promise you it wont be fun. if you feel like you should prey..... pray for my little toy gun
