Summer

Lisa Loeb

Why do you have to leave me now and go home?
Summer, it starts when I see you.
My smile, it parts when I hear you talking to me.
My heart, it beats when it's me who I know you love,
And my mind, it just goes crazy
Knowing I'm going to be with you always.I ask you if you will hold my hand,
And you ask me if I'll kiss you.
You want to know how much I love you,
I say, "well, I guess I'll miss you."Well, I call you on the telephone
'Cause you call me all the time,
'Cause I need to know the same of you and you the same of me,
That you're still mine.
Tell me a story about me and you
And I know how it will end-
Happily ever after, just like it will begin.
And I'll show you a happy boy and girl
If you show me a picture of me and you.
When it's time to leave, I'll ask you what to do.I ask you if you will hold my hand,
And you ask me if I'll kiss you.
You want to know how much I love you,
I say, "Well I guess I'll miss you."
