Travelling Light

Markus Schulz

Your speaking a different language to me
Your world is far away,
I can never live there
I'm looking into your eyes, trying to find, a common place to start
Don't fire that gun yet

I was turning the page before you could read
The signs were all around
But missin' them's easier...

I admit that I'm the stranger here
The story of our past, the one that never got started
Never got started...
So I'm traveling light
(Oh yeah...)
I'm traveling light
We never got started...
So I'm traveling light
(Traveling light)

Your speaking a different language to me
Your world is far away,
I can never live there
I'm looking into your eyes, trying to find, a common place to start
Don't fire that gun yet
We never got started (never got started)
So I'm traveling light
(Oh yeah...)
I'm traveling light, We never got started....
So I'm traveling light...
Never got started...
I'm traveling light
