Hey, What You Trying To Say

Embrace

Hey, what you trying to say
Because the giants that I've left behind
Won't overshadow me
So hey, what you trying to mend
When the magic of the first is feeling
Like it could never endAnd stars remind you
You see the best in the dark
And every time I see your eyes
You can't deny it cause they say
What you're trying to saySo hey, what you trying to lose
What you can't describe you try to hide
No one ever tells the truth
So hey, what you trying to say
Do you ask you if you need me
As you say it's all okayStars remind you
You see the best in the dark
And every time I see your eyes
You can't hideCause I know how you feel
And every time you use that mouth
Everything I hear will always let me down
Cause all I hear is words
Every time you make a sound
Promises and worse
You'll always let me downHey, what you trying to say
Because the giants that I've left behind
Won't overshadow me
Hey, what you trying to mend
When the magic of the first time is the feeling
All these feelings never end
