I Still Believe In Loving You

Sarah Geronimo

Just when I thought our love was here to stay
Just when I thought you'll never ever go away
You said it's time for you to go
But I'm not sure I really know
Why you are leavingAnd when we finally say our last goodbye
I'll never make it hard for you
You won't even see me cry
And though there's tears inside of me
I'm gonna let your heart go freeBefore you leave
There's just one thing
That I want you to knowI still believe in loving you
In spite of all the hurts
That I'm going throughEven if again and again you'd break my heart
One thing would never change
I still believe in loving youIf you would tell me that you'll be alright
I'll never let you see me blue
But I'll keep our love alive
And though I'm feeling incomplete
I guess that this is what you needBefore you leave
There's just one thing
That I want you to knowI still believe in loving you
In spite of all the hurts
That I'm going throughEven if again and again you'd break my heart
One thing would never change
I still believe in loving you
