I've Been Looking for You So Long

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I tried to find my way around here
But there's no street signs in this town
It's gettin' dark I can hardly see
Because all the lights are burned out
I tried to stop somewhere and ask
But all the stores are closed downWhere the hell am I?
Where the hell are you tonight?[Chorus]
I've been looking for you so long
Down every road I've been on
In every empty glass
And every jukebox sad song
I've been lying to myself
And everyone can tell
Since you've been gone
I've been looking for you so longI know why
I'm the reason why
My shattered heart is on the run
Doubt I deserve a second chance
But I'd do anything to get one
The more I try to get back to you
The more it all comes undoneWhere the hell am I?
Where the hell are you tonight?[Chorus]I'm lost
I'm trying to find you here
In someone else's town
In the middle of nowhere
Out of gas
Watching people pass
Me by[Chorus]I've been looking for you so long
