Living Monstrosity

Death

Every day blows by in a world of corrupt addiction
With life comes pain withdrawals and deformation
Breaking the mould of human appearance
Contorting bodies with chemical interferenceThe guilty one, innocent she now cries
A life of hell, better off to die
Born without eyes, hands, and half a brain
Being born addicted to cocaineLiving monstrosity
A freak for life they'll always be
Never knowing love or hate
Only pain the drug createsSome say she's naive, she's a stupid bitch
Some say to forgive, guilty she should dieThe beginning of the end begins at birth
Breeding masses of twisted screaming flesh
An example we should make out of theses creators of misfortune
A serious crime that should not be forgivenThe guilty one, innocent she now cries
A life of hell, better off to die
Born without eyes, hands, and half a brain
Being born addicted to cocaine
