today has wings

Edison Glass

Today has wings
And we're welcoming change
We're asking
"Sweet spirit, place your mark on us"We're shedding this thick numb
And overly insensitive skin
We're trading it for something we can live with
To live and breathe without restrictionNow this is your release
We've burned out the eyes of restraint, don't hold back
This is your release
We're changed from withinJesus, You've proved where the real freedom's fromThis thick numb
And overly insensitive skin
To breathe and live without restrictionWe're shedding this thick numb
And overly insensitive skin
We're trading it for something we can live with
To live and breathe without restrictionWe're shedding this thick numb
And overly insensitive skin
We're trading it for something we can live with
To live and breathe without restrictionTo live without restriction
