

California

Childish Gambino

She want to move to California
She must've fucking lost her mind
She want to move to California
It's hard to get through every time She make a movie with her friends
Put it up in a minute
Everybody say it now ain't no loop at the minute
Everybody say how, how you do it, you did it
I'ma show you what it done but, enough for a visit
Girl you think and you listen
You keep losing your mind
How you want to loop this shit but looking like a vine But they don't pay for no privilege, now she broke in
Korea Town
In the condo you rented, but they get your percentage In California, ooh
She must've fucking lost her mind, yeah
He want to move to California
He want to hang with DC Fly All the people in the room and the follower people
Like I'm watching the "ha ha" make his girlfriend giggle
Make official official, make a servant a feast
Don't pay no residual, making money a little
Make the smoker illegal, make the living illegal
Make the laughing illegal, make it snap for a people
When you make a movie now, no you making no difference
It's a tickle on the mind before you finish the sentence The cocaine like a vine but don't pay for the privilege
Now you broke in Korea Town, in the condo you rented
But they get your percentage
Oh you broke in Korea town in that condo you rented
But they get your percentage In California
She must've fucking lost her mind, yeah
He want to move to California
He want to hang with DC Fly
