Second Coming

Good Riddance

it streaks across the sky towards Bethlehem a shining star filled with hope and love.It the second coming the new Christ won't survive it's a second coming the Christ will diehe thinks he'll rid the world of it's sins. but he'll feel the nails go right into his hands.think about the first time that he came all the millions that died in his name the apocalypse is oh so near soon enough we'll be in darkness. when the world finally got wise he got a spear right into his side.
