Too Big

Christopher Martin

Say sugar honey
you gotta act like me
You can take a passion lovin' panther
Make him weak at the knees.
You can shake him like a rattle
And roll him like a dice.
But honey you know I'm too big to be nice
I gave away my independence to all them evil guys
And when I got too hot they put my lips on ice.
Now I don't hold out with wise guysI see through their diguise'Cause honey I'm to big to be fooled twice.
Well
I don't know all the answers
But I guess I know my share
And I've taken all the chances
But I never really caredBecause I'm too big to be used
You know I'm too big for my bootsYou know I'm too big to be abused
And honey
I never lose.
Now listen baby watch the way you walk
And when it comes to talkin; watch the way you talk.
He'll tear you down and break you
And make you if he can.
But honey you're too big too big for that man
You know he can't understand youYou're brakin' all the rules.
He's tried so hard to land youJust send him back to schoolBecause you're too big to be usedYou know you're too big for your bootsYou know you're too big to be abused
And honey you'll never lose.Because I'm too big to be used
You know I'm too big for my bootsYou know I'm too big to be abused
And honey I never lose.No
no
no
no
no
I'm too big . . .
