Love You to Death

Kamelot

When they met she was fifteen Like a black rose blooming wild

And she already knew she was gonna die"What's tomorrow without you?

This is our last goodbye"She got weaker every day

As the autumn leaves flew by

Until one day, she told him, "This is when I die""What was summer like for you?"

She asked him with a smile

"What's tomorrow without you?"

He silently repliedShe said,"I will always be with you

I'm the anchor of your sorrow

There's no end to what I'll do

Cause I love you, I love you to death"But the sorrow went too deep

The mountain fell too steep

And the wounds would never heal

Cause the pain of the loss was more than he could feelHe said,"I will always be with you

By the anchor of my sorrow

All I know, or ever knew,

Is I love you, I love you to death""What's tomorrow without you?

Is this our last goodbye?"[Guitar Solo]"I will always be with you

I'm the anchor of your sorrow

There's no end to what I'll do

Cause I love you"

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/