

Sometimes

The Downtown Fiction

Trace back to where you were before
To those days back when but nevermore
In the glow of light we crossed the street
To that place shrouded in mysteryIn the lonely nights
I've wanted all of you
For the longest time
Hard to speak the truth
SometimesAnd we drove up north to Baltimore
Where the fires burned but nevermore
And we dredged the scraps of our buried souls
For the young at heart
Or so it goes, so it goesIn the lonely nights
I've wanted all of you
For the longest time
Hard to speak the truth
Sometimes

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>