

Like I Loved You

Brett Young

Would've thought you wrote down every word
Goodbye spelled out like it had been rehearsed
There ain't no point in trying to change your mindSeems like
You've got it all figured out
You're alright
With the way this is going downDon't tell me we can still be friends
Hanging on the weekend
You're gonna be okay if I start seeing somebody new
You hope that I do
It won't be long
Till I forget to call every time that I'm drinking
And you ain't the love song
I can't keep from singing
I gotta be honest
You really believe that's the truth
You never loved me like I loved youBy the way you're talking you would think
You never had any real feelings for me
And if you think I can look across the bar
And see you
In someone else's arms
And I need you
Oh who do you think you areTrying to tell me we can still be friends
Hanging on the weekend
You're gonna be okay if I start seeing somebody new
You hope that I do
It won't be long
Till I forget to call every time that I'm drinking
And you ain't the love song
I can't keep from singing
I gotta be honest
You really believe that's the truth
You never loved me like I loved youYou always told me
You'd never leave me
You said I was your one and only
So what makes you think I wanna hear you sayWe can still be friends
No I don't wanna be friends
Stop telling me, stop telling me, woahThat we can still be friends
Hanging on the weekend
You're gonna be okay if I start seeing somebody new

You hope that I do
It won't be long
Till I forget to call every time that I'm drinking
And you ain't the love song
I can't keep from singing
I gotta be honest
You really believe that's the truth
You never loved me like I loved you
You never loved me like I loved you
You never loved me like I loved you

Songwriters

BRETT CHARLES YOUNG, JESSE LEE

Published by Lyrics © Universal Music Publishing Group, OLE MEDIA MANAGEMENT LP Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>