Into The Nothing

Breaking Benjamin

Screaming on the inside, I am frail and withered

Cover up the wounds that I can't hide

Walls that lie between us, the saint within the sinner

I have lost the nerve but it's all rightCarry the wounded and shut your eyes

All will be forgiven, none will rise

Bury the fallen and lead the blind

I will find the lost, dead insideInto the nothing, faded and weary

I won't leave and let you fall behind

Live for the dying, heaven, hear me

I know we can make it out aliveLeave me at the bottom, I am lost forever

Letters from the dead, say goodbye

Sorrow falls upon us, this will be the last time

Days begin to end but I'll get byFollow the hopeless and shut your eyes

All will be abandoned, none will shine

Gather the broken and leave this life

Lying in the earth side by sideInto the nothing, faded and weary

I won't leave and let him fall behind

Live for the dying, heaven, hear me

I know we can make it out aliveI'll keep you inside

Where I lead you cannot follow

Straight into the light

As my breath grows still and shallow Into the nothing, faded and weary

I won't leave and let them fall behind

Live for the dying, heaven, hear me

I know we can make it out aliveStay with me, you're all I have left

I know we can make it out alive

Stay with me, you're all I have left

I know we can make it out alive
