Every Other Day

Jeff Hardy

Something other then nothing,
same old play role, pain low.
Something other then nothing, let it go.I'm something other, then nothing, same old plan me, you'll see.Something other, then nothing, let it be.Every other day, I'll soon remember.
Every other story, that was told.
Every other time I had to listen.
Was just another out of my control.Every other day, I'll soon remember,
Every other moment, that was lost.
Every other time I had to miss you,
Was just another whole in my default.
Something other, then nothing,
same old life role, hard go.
Something other then nothing, let it go.It's something other then nothing, same old quest why, hard try.Something other then nothing, let it die.Every other day, I'll soon remember.
Every other story, that was told.
Every other time I had to listen.
Was just another out of my control.Every other day, I'll soon remember,
Every other moment, that was lost.
Every other time I had to miss you,
Was just another whole in my default.I'm getting over theit mind.
The walls will crumble behind,
The music will come sense,
My creative human mind.
I'm getting threw them all,
the barriers will be broke.
The music will come sense,
my creative will tickle.Every other day, I'll soon remember.
Every other story, that was told.
Every other time I had to listen.
Was just another out of my control.Every other day, I'll soon remember,
Every other moment, that was lost.
Every other time I had to miss you,
Was just another whole in my default.Every other day, I'll soon remember,
Every other moment, that was lost...
