

Beer Drinking Woman

Memphis Slim & Willie Dixon

(piano 'Dragnet' intro)Spoken:The story's true ladies and gentlemen.

All the names have been changed to

Protect the innocent.

The year 19 hundred and forty.

The city, Chicago. The place, Rubin's TavernThe story goes something like this:I walked into a beer tavern

To give a girl a nice time

I had forty-five dollars when I enter

When I left I had one dime

Wasn't she a beer drinkin' woman?

Don't ya know, man don't ya know?

She was a beer-drinkin' woman

And I don't want to see her no moreNow, when I spend down to my last dime

She said, 'Darlin' I know you're not through'

I said, 'Yes, baby doll

And the trophy belongs to you'Wasn't she a beer drinkin' woman?

Don't you know, man don't you know?

She was a beer-drinkin' woman

And I don't wanna see her no moreNow she'd often say, 'Excuse me a minute

I've got to step around here'

And ev'ry time she came back

She had room for another quart of beer

Wasn't that a beer drinkin' woman?

Don't ya know, man, don't ya know?

She was a beer drinkin' woman

And I don't want to see her no mo'.~
