

Bad Bad Feeling

Trampled Under Foot

i've got a bad bad feeling my baby's doing something wrong there's a distance in his heart and it just won't leave me alone i lay in bed , i weep and moan i'm hoping that a call will say he'd be coming home i've got a bad bad feeling my baby's doing something wrong somebody 's hanging up if i ever answer your phone must be a wrong number you say, and leave it alone i 'm giving you the slack and i'm running on low your cold shoulder's been chilling me to the bone i've got a bad bad feeling my baby's doing something wrong You say i'm crazy , i'm making it up i'm out of my mind and you're the one who 's fed up but then we go to a party she's acrosss the room i see you watch her and as she sneaks on by i know that you know her and i'll tell you why the last time i smelled that perfume it was all over you oooh my baby's doing something wrong My bad bad feeling was my baby's doing something wrong it hurts me to know that i was right all along i trusted you and i had your back you turned on me and now that's a fact that my bad bad feeling was my baby's doing something wrong
