

A Good Storm

Sawyer Fredericks

So you ask me
Why I'm so blue
Well, you got open fields
And blue, blue skies up above youAnd your white clouds are never,
Never turning gray
Oh, you got everything you need
Ask you, "Why must I be happy?"'Cause I don't need the sun to rise
In the mornin'
And I like my sky to stay dark and cloudy
You know I like a good storm when it comesSo let the cold take me in its arms
Sail you cynical man
Just like you've always been and
You said I'll die aloneThat would be after you're gone and your Harsh words still linger
And my friends keep on tellin' me to move on
Ask them why I let this consume me if it's all I wantCause I don't need to be loved or love someone
It's an empty space in my heart
Might never fill
But what do I care if I die alone?Just let the cold take me in its arms
'Cause I don't need the sun to rise in the morning
