

Nothing Really Happened

Math and Physics Club

Couples kissing on the TV
The band was swinging on the CD
It was early at the party
There were no empty glasses but mine
So why do I don't want going out anymore
You ask me
Well I really don't, I really don't, I really don't know
I must be terribly lonely
Glass of vodka and kareoke
I sang something stupid and you smiled
But nothing really happened
There was some talk about my life
So why do I don't want going out anymore
You ask me
Well I really don't, I really don't, I really don't know
I must be terribly lonely
And nothing ever changes
Oh, we want to find things we are denied
Would you show me, oh?
Would you show me. oh?
And nothing ever changes
Oh, we want to find the things we are denied
Would you show me, oh?
Would you show me. oh?
