

Nursing Home Blues

D.R.I.

I am an old man living alone
My loved ones stuck me here in this nursing home
I've lost all usefulness
I want to die I gave them all the best years of my life
Then Maggie passed away, now I've got no wife
So kill me, young man or hand me your knife
'Cause I want to die My beautiful daughter says I get in the way
I depress her because I'm old and gray
She can't stand to see the wrinkles in my skin
By golly, girl, you're my only kin
I want to die Like an old horse put out to pasture
Too old to be of any more use to it's master
When I lie in bed and I reminisce
I begin to think maybe this is best I'm out of the way, not in anyone's hair
I'm costing them money but I don't care
I want to die
