Wedding Song

Howard Jones

I can see you on your wedding day
With the one you love to share the way
A life ahead of you, youth left behind
Go out and make yourself some memoriesDespair and pleasure faced at every turn
And there's children to save from harm's way
Three thousand doorways reveal a thousand more
Treasure each moment forever moreI promise to love you and do my best for you
I need you to help me to find my strength, walk with me
All through my life, my lover, my husband my wife
Share this journey with me, write this story with meLife comes and it will go and there's no time
To sit and watch the grass grow
When we are old and gray you know we'll say
We went and made ourselves some memoriesWe're starting our life, we're starting together now
I need you to help me to find my strength, walk with me
All through my life, my lover my husband, my wife
Share this journey with me, write this story with me
