

Sanskrit

Isidore

All in a day, forcing us, moving us, changing us, soothing us
And in a way, playing your scene right up on the screen like it's yesterday
 Yesterday's gone and it's better that way
All in a day, written in Sanskrit againWe are the souls outside and all divided
Without a doubt, we've found all undecidedHere in this age, ripping us, bruising us, stripping us, using us
 Time like a cage, rattling the bars, falling like stars
 Words on a page, meaningless, dreamingless, seemingless
Here in this age, to be written in Sanskrit againWe are the souls outside and all divided
 Without a doubt, we've found all undecided
 We are the souls outside and all divided
 Without a doubt, we've found all undecided
 [Incomprehensible]
