

I Can Feel You Drifting

Kenny Rogers

You took me out so far that I can't swim to shore
I've been holding on but you're not anymore
Our love would always lead us home, constant as the Northern Star
Here's a storm we won't get through 'cause it's not in your heart
I can feel you drifting slowly out of reach
Out there in the distance there's something else you need
If I could be what's missing that's all I'd want to be
I can feel you drifting
In the silence that's become the company we keep I've realized how far we are from what we used to be
A part of you has gone somewhere, I can't seem to touch
I could stay and take what's left, but baby, that's not us
I can feel you drifting slowly out of reach
Out there in the distance there's something else you need
If I could be what's missing that's all I'd want to be
I can feel you drifting
If I could be what's missing that's all I'd want to be
I can feel you drifting, I can feel you drifting, you're out of reach
