When the blood dries in my veins
And my heart feels no more pain
I know I'll be on my way to heaven's door I know when I'm not, I'll be hoping I don't drop
To a place where I will rise like before
I know when I'm not, I'll be hoping I don't drop
To a place where I will rise like before I can feel it
Something happening I've never felt before
Hope this dreaming won't start
Dragging me away from heaven's door I can feel it
Something happening I've never felt before
Hope this dreaming won't start
Dragging me away from heaven's door When my mind stops thinking
And my eyes stop blinking
I hope somebody's there When my heart stops beating
And my lungs stop breathing in air
I hope somebody cares When the blood dries in my veins
And my heart feels no more pain
I know, I'll be on my way to heaven's door I know when I'm not, I'll be hoping I don't drop
To a place where I will rise like before
I know when I'm not, I'll be hoping I don't drop
To a place where I will rise like before I can feel it
Something happening I've never felt before
Hope this dreaming won't start
Dragging me away from heaven's door When my mind stops thinking
And my eyes stop blinking
I hope somebody's there When my heart stops beating
And my lungs stop breathing in air
I hope somebody cares When my mind stops thinking
And my eyes stop blinking
I know at the end
