Passion Is No Ordinary Word

Graham Parker

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

It worked much better in a fantasy
Imagination's one thing that comes easy to me
'Cause this is nothing else if not unreal
When I pretend to touch you, you pretend to feelPassion is no ordinary word
Passion is no ordinary word
But passion is no ordinary word
Ain't manufactured or just another sound
That you hear at night, at nightAin't got no idols for the screen today
Although they make a lot of noises they got nothing to say
I try to look amazed but it's an act
The movie might be new but it's the same soundtrackPassion is no ordinary word
I think I heard passion is no ordinary word
I think, I bet passion is no ordinary word
Ain't manufactured or just another sound
That you hear at nightSay how it feels real useless, ain't it
Wait until it bites right down inside you
The world is easy when you're just playin' around with it
Everything's a thrill and every girl's a kill
And then it gets unreal and then you don't feel anything
You don't feel anything, you don't feel anythingAn object of desire you don't desire to be
I bet the shop window dummies give in just as easily
I try to stop but have to make you drop down to the floor
Moanin' in the darkness as we fake some morePassion is no ordinary word
I think I heard passion is no ordinary word
I tell you babe, passion is no ordinary word
Ain't manufactured or just another sound
That you hear andPassion is no ordinary word
I tell you true, passion is no ordinary word
I bet, I bet, passion is no ordinary word
Ain't manufactured or just another sound
That you hear at nights, at nightsJust another sound that you hear at night
Ain't just another sound, a sound that you hear at night

Ain't just another sound, a sound that you hear at night
Ain't just another sound, a sound that you hear at nightAin't just another sound, a sound that you hear at night
It ain't just another sound, a sound that you hear at night
Ain't just another sound, a sound that you hear at night
