I Shall Return

Gov't Mule

As this wheel goes around
And I search to find my way
Struggle just to hold on
Through an ordinary day
I do believe I'm slipping away, yeahI shall return from losing myself
I shall return
I shall return from the depths of my own hell
I shall returnFate should not have blinded me
For your beauty steals my eyes
And what good is my wisdom
When there are no words to say
How I feel everyday, oh yeah, oh yeahI shall return though I'm losing myself
I shall return
I shall return from the depths of my own hell
I shall returnDaylight finds me sleeping
Dreaming of my youth
But darkness calls my name out loud
And I answer to the truthOh you know oh, I shall return from losing myself
I shall return to find a way
You know oh, I shall return from the depths of my own hell
I shall return, returnDon't you know, you know
Oh, I shall return though I'm losing myself
You know, I shall return from the depths of my own hell
I shall return
