

So Hard to Move

Dana Fuchs

i got the news from a friend - sayin you'd come back to me again but you were too tired of livin to fight for a lie you knew you'd been given now the sun has gone and closed his eyes - a blood shot moon cries a lullabyit's so hard to move - when you feel like you're only gonna lose and it's so hard to stay - when you fear everything's gonna be taken taken awayi still remember what you said - the day you left me with a heavy breath you were too tired to smile - so i washed you in tears, held your hand for a whileyou're a million miles next to me - i'm way too close i don't wanna leave... cuz it's so hard to move - when you feel like you're only gonna lose
taken awaytime never heals regret - take the good with the bad & whatever's left sweet memories together - they're gonna live in my heart forever and evernow the sun has opened up my eyes - the blood shot moon has heard my cry that it's so hard to move - when you feel like you only gonna lose and it's so hard to stay - when you fear everything's gonna be taken, takenoh it's so hard to move when you feel like, you feel like you're only gonna lose but it's so hard to stay when you fear everything's gonna be taken taken away
