

This Is Not Surreal

Lindi Ortega

Revolutionary for the one you love
He was the frog and you were the dove
With your broken body and your broken heart
One must always suffer for the sake of their artChorus
This is not surreal you said
This is my reality and its left me for dead
This is not surreal you said
This is my reality til my very last breathSwimming in the sorrow that you tried to drown
A traitor in your own mind and you can't get him out
Haunting every portrait of your saddest face
Your muse is a painting that cannot be erasedChorus
This is not surreal you said
This is my reality and its left me for dead
This is not surreal you said
This is my reality til my very last breathThis is not surreal you said
This is my reality and its left me for dead
This is not surreal you said
This is my reality til my very last breath
This is my reality til my very last breath
