Enthralled in Essence

Atheist

[Lyrics: Shaefer]
[Music : Atheist]I've scaled over the walls of morality
Not quite sure what I'd find
There on the other side
Waiting in a common stance
Relieve me of my duty
As keeper of this body
Just leave me with my mind
And I assure you
I will be just fineTears stream from cheek
Of a man whose body his mind does not seek
A very gruelling rendition
Of a human soul's indecision
The qualities of a finer being
Locked well within this shell
Crying out to be released
To a body that serves as wellMalformed at birth
You see what it's worth
In a mirror I ask why
Such a shame, wanting to die
