Just A Dream

Quimby

Was I dreaming? Was I awake? Or did you come home Today? For the rest of my life A little pity For the rest of our lives A little pity Pick up your stones And go to work on my bones And then tell me if they'll be alright I'll come 'round for this moment The only other moment To see you when you're down I'll come 'round, I'll come around See you when you're down This is a mistake Long roads never cast The long burning embers of your heart When the sun rose, the surface It removed the reflection of you Long roads don't mean anything to me now They're gone and done Into the sun for now Pick up your stones And go to work on my bones And then tell me if they'll be alright I'll come 'round for this moment The only other moment To see you when you're down I'll come 'round, I'll come around See you when you're down This is a mistake
