One More Day

Don Lewis Band

When I'm lost between the lines
And the shadows on the wall
You are there to find me
And when I don't know who I am
And my mind is not my own
You're there to understand me
And when I'm feeling like it's time to sleep
Like it's time to leave this stage
You're the reason I try to make it one more day

When I'm feeling grey and small
Like some forgotten child
You are there to hold me
And when I'm drowning in my fears
And my suffocating nights
You are there to save me
And when I'm feeling like I've missed my cue
Like my part's been all misplayed
You're the reason I try
To make it one more day

And if one day you realize
That it's wrong for you to stay
You're feeling that the road is much too long
And you need some other way
I don't believe that I
Could make it one more day
I don't believe that I
Could make it one more day
