

Waiting

Ben Kenobi

On my way home
Your voice followed me
The picture of you came to my mind
But not last long

On the subway
My phone startled me
It was not you
Not the number I've been waiting

Drawing the road that we walked together
It's meaningless though without you
Without you

The sound of silence distracts me
The state of my soul hurts my mind
The clock is ticking it lets me down
But I'll be here
But I'll be here

My reflection with vacant eyes
It only breaks my heart all in vain
The consolation from your last goodbye
It only left my heart all in pain

The sound of whirlwind the sound of starlight
I'm stunned and frozen with tears I fight back

I'll be waiting
I'll be waiting for your soul

On my way home
Your voice followed me
