Day By Day

Five For Fighting

Day by day I wake up for you, I do
And I rise to who knows who
Well, if I can say some other day
Day by day I reason to you, I do
And I pretend there's something to it
And if I can say I've had better days
Day by day I resort to you, I do
And I wash up after you're through
If I can say, "Oh, that's okay"
And you're in my head again
And you're in my bed again
And you're in my mirror again
And if you don't mind me, I don't mind you
Day by day I reflect on you, I do
I reflect on you, I do
