

Psycho

The Brandos

As I wake up every day
All I know is I'm too tired
Can't find the strength in me
To put up with your suspicions
All the crap you're telling me
In those mails you're sending me
You claim that I'm a cheater
And that I do not deserve you
If it's how you see those things
Then soon I won't be near you
So just keep that in mind
That although you look damn fine
You don't rule my world
I'm an independent girl
[Ref:] There is a psycho
Hidden under
Underneath your skin
Is it forbidden for me
To deal with my own things

There is a problem for you
If you keep harassing me
It's time you realized that there
Is a psycho in your skin
Keep calling up my friends
To make sure that I am with them
Do I need to remind you that
I already have a mother
You're a master in disguise
Hoping I won't recognise
That you're everywhere I go
You don't really trust me a bit
The situation makes me mad
I'm giving you my final warning
I am a crazy girl
And to get on my nerves
Is a risky thing
Now hear what I sing
[Ref]
