

Ego You

Declan

In pain you seek
All that you need
When do you decide
When all is said and done
You laugh it off and run

In time you'll see
What you get from me
I should've known
We could have made it through
But that's just ego you

Time will show
And time will tell
What you need to make it well
Time will show, I know
If I let you go

Through all your life
All filled with strive
All you desire
Has been torn up in two
Because of ego you

Time will show
And time will tell
What you need to make it well
Time will show, I know
If I let you go

Time will show
And time will tell
What you need to make it well
Time will show, I know
If I let you go
