

Main Street

Angus & Julia Stone

My heart is aching for yours
I'll never let you be sure
My bones are aching for yours
You rode me on your bicycle down Main Street You were all that remained
Everything else slowly fades away
You are the one who forgets
You rode me on your bicycle down Main Street Whatever happened to those lights?
Whatever happened to those lights?
Whatever happened to those lights we found?
Whatever happened to those lights? Painted us kissing in blue
I wrote another song for you
Help me so I never leave
You rode me on your bicycle down Main Street Whatever happened to those lights?
Whatever happened to those lights?
Whatever happened to those lights we found?
Whatever happened to those lights? Ghosts stand waiting
Ghosts stand waiting
Ghosts stand waiting in the dark
Ghosts stand waiting
Ghosts stand waiting
Ghosts stand waiting in the dark Whatever happened to those lights?
Whatever happened to those lights?
Whatever happened to those lights we found?
Whatever happened to those lights?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>