Will You Remember Me

Corrinne May

Bare feet tickled by the powdery sand
Pressing footprints along the shore
A vain attempt to leave a testament
That I walked this path before
Will you remember
Will you remember meMy face on the water
Wrinkles with the tide
And vanishes from the ocean's silver screen
Like stars sprinkled in the sky
Forgotten when the sun appears
Will you remember
Will you rememberWide-eyed wanderer
Search no longer
The light burns bright in youSo I'll leave this kiss wet on your face
My first born son
And pray the wind won't ever blow it dry
I'm sure Jesus had the notion
When it came His time to die
Will you remember
Will you remember me
Will you remember
Will you remember me
