My Impure Hair

Blonde Redhead

I've lost my key
I've gone too far

Was it enough to make you sick?

Maybe I live again, but would I lose again my virginity?

Oh, my virginityI'm shaped to get in your way

But in the end

We defend our decadence

You never wept like that

Whatever lost I won't forget about you

Oh, forget about youIt's not what I said, it's what you said

It's what you did did that belongs to everyone

It's not what I hate, it's what you hate

Its decadence belongs to everyoneOne day I lie next to you and you stroke my impure hair
