Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

We went into town
On the Tuesday night
Searching all the places
That you hang about Were looking for you
In the back street cellar
In the drinking clubs
In the discotheques
And the gaming pubs Were looking for you
You will pay the price
For my own sweet brother
And what he has become
And a hundred other boys and girls
And all that you have done We picked up the trail
At the seven crowns
One of your cronies
He was doing your rounds We followed him
Just a silhouette figure
Up market pass
Where the headlamps shine
On the broken glass We followed him
Over the bridge by the old canal
Where the shadows dance
On the lighted wall
He stopped to light up a cigarette
And we dived into a doorway No police, no summons, no courts of law
No proper procedure, no rules of war
No mitigating circumstance
No lawyers fees, no second chance There are lasses getting trouble
On their own home beat
There are old folk battered
In the open street In this city of ours
There are eyes that see

But say nothing at all
There are ears that hear
But they dont recallIn this city of ours
So we followed your man
Back to your front door
And were waiting
For you outsideCause not everybody
Here is scared of you
Not everybody passes
On the other sideNo police, no summons, no courts of law
No proper procedure, no rules of war
No mitigating circumstance
No lawyers fees, no second chanceWe could spent
Our whole lives waiting
For some thunderbolt to comeAnd we could spent
For some justice to be done
Unless we make our ownNo police, no summons, no courts of law
No proper procedure, no rules of war
No lawyers fees, no second chance
