

Deafening Silence

Machine Head

Well she looked right into my eyes
And said to me
The hurt that you try to hide
Is killin' me I drink a thousand lies
To freeze the past in time
I've tried to fill this silence up
But now it's back again See the pain in my eyes
See the scars deep inside
My God, I'm down in this hole again
With the laugh for a smile
With the tears that I cry
Keep goin' down this road called life
Called life Well she says that I'm insecure
I guess she's right
'Cause just when I think I'm sure
Alone at night The agonies come back
This pain won't let me be
I try to fill the silence up
But now it's back again See the pain in my eyes
See the scars deep inside
My God, I'm down in this hole again
With the laugh for a smile
With the tears that I cry
Keep goin' down this road called life
Don't need your sympathy
I just want for this silence
To stop killin' me It's deafening
It's deafening
This silence inside me
It's deafening
It's deafening
The silence inside me
The silence inside I try to fill the silence up
But now it's back again
It's empty like a suicide
This pain inside
(Woh, woh, woh) See the pain in my eyes
See the scars deep inside
My God, I'm down in this hole again

With the laugh for a smile
With the tears that I cry
Keep goin' down this road called life
Don't need your sympathy
I just want for this silence
To stop killin' me, hey
