Good Monsters

Jars of Clay

All the good monsters open their eyes

To see the wasteland where the home fires rise

And the people shouting, "Why, why, why?"Do you know what you are?

Do you know what you are?All of the giants wake from their sleep

And roll outside of safety's keep

And the pain makes them feel so aliveDo you know what you are?

Do you know what you are?And we are bored of all the things we know

Do you know what you are?

Do you know what you are?Not all monsters are bad

But the ones who are good

Never do what they could

Never do what they couldAll the good monsters rattle their chains And dance around the open flames

And they make a lot of empty noiseWhile all of the bright eyes turn away

As if there wasn't anything to say

About the justice and the mysteryDo you know what you are?

Do you know what you are?We are bored of all the things we know

And we are forms of everything we love

We loveGood won't show it's ugly face

Evil, won't you take your place? Nothing ever changes

Nothing ever changes by itselfAnd we are bored of all the things we know

Do you know what you are?

'Cause we are, we're so in love with ourselves

And we are forms of all the things we love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/