

My Days Are Darker Than Your Nights

Wanda Jackson

You never knew how much I loved you I tried but you just couldn't see the light

You're out there somewhere with her now I guess it's best for you

But my days are darker than your nights

My days are darker than your nights I wait for mornings that never arise

There's just no end as long as I'm alive my days are darker than your nights

[steel]

You'll never know just what I'm going through

I hope you'll never need someone like I need you

You're happy now you've got just what you want

But don't think that I'll forget you cause I won't

My days are darker than your nights...
