

Do You Want To Be Free

Randall Bramblett

A guilty place you must defend
And hide it away at any cost
Do you want to be free
Do you want to be freeAll the people that you judged
Built their houses in your head
Do you want to be free
Do you want to be freePrecious treasure that you found
In pieces on the floor now
Do you want to be free
Do you want to be freeBring all the damage with you
And mix your tears in the rolling seaAnd all the hurts and bruises
Why don't you leave them here with me
The silver rain has drained away
And the dirty streets are shining now
Do you want to be free
Do you want to be free
