Let Love Grow

Dolly Parton

Love can grow in the strangest places,
Might find love in strangers faces.
Find it on a mountain top or in a valley low
Love can grow where you least expect it,
Nurtured by a kiss or a tear that wets it
Love will grow if one just lets it,
Let love grow.
I know you, have feelings for me too
But you're afraid to try to love again.
I know your heart is true
I'll do my best to prove
That I'll be here for you
Please say you'll let me in.
Love can grow in the strangest places,
Might find love in strangers faces.
Find it on a mountain top or in a valley low
Love can grow where you least expect it,
Take and chance and don't reject it.
Love will grow if one just lets it,
Let love grow.
If I could, I'd ease your doubts for good,
I'd put your heart at ease,
Just don't give up.
What do you say we try,
And go that extra mile
What chance that you and I,
Find love we're worthy of.

Might find love in strangers faces.

Find it on a mountain top or in a valley low
Hindsight's always out to blind you.
Look ahead, not behind you
Look for love and let it find you
Let love grow.
It's a chance that's worth the taking.
Love is out there for the making.
Shinin' in the eyes of someone that you know.

In any color, shape or fashion
There is no denying passion.
Love is always everlasting,
Let love grow,
Love can grow in the strangest places,
Might find love in strangers faces.
Find it on a mountain top or in a valley low
Love can grow where you least expect it,
Nurtured by a kiss or a tear that wets it
Love will grow if one just lets it,
Let love grow.
I'm tellin' you
Love can fill the empty spaces,
Dry our tears and all their traces,
Mend our broken hearts and heal our souls.
In any color, shape or fashion
There is no denying passion.
Love is always everlasting,
Let love grow,
Come on, let love grow
Take a chance and
Let love grow
