

Sorry

Seinabo Sey

Flowers in my garden, die faster than they grow Slowly as they wither, I reap the seeds I sow I have felt the wind blow, like fire and like snow But only shame can conquer time and guilt you know Be wise enough to wonder, be brave and let it go Nothing's everlasting, have mercy on my soul Wrong one told the right way might make you string your bow When all these clouds are full of sin, and rage you know Heaven keep the lonely, you are not the only I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence eye I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence eye No rest for the wicked, seek and you will find Silence is the symphony, I trust and keep in mind Shadows have the habit, of making demons glow and all these clouds are full of sin,
and rage you know Heaven keep the lonely, I am not the only I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence eye I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence I cry Have these leaves of gold, give me back my soul I know no matter what,
I can't stay on my knees Heaven help me please I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence eye I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence eye I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence eye I heard you're feeling sorry for yourself now, like tears from a nice silence I cry, I cry
