Fictional Reality

Slayer

Crisis feed the lunacy, all fear the new machine
Consumed democracy returns a socialist regime
It's laid to rest without contest, all hail the new incompetence
Making you see what to believe, a drone in the world of anarchyTreachery, misery, violence, insanity
Scavengers closing in covering the truth again
Castrate society, fictional realityInsecurity afraid of things you cannot see
Words become the image of the enemy
You can't dissect what was correct
Vengeance based on how things are said
Can't see your side conflicts with mine
Frustrations lead to complete demiseTreachery, misery, violence, insanity
Scavengers closing in covering the truth again
Every trial conspiracy, compassion is the enemy
Paralyze, criticize breaking through the wall of liesSuicidal hierarchy racing in reverse
Everything that's done today will be tomorrow's curse
Screams in my head precede your death
Can't hold the rage when the truth is said
Blind lead the blind, line after line in a world too shallow to defyTreachery, misery, violence, insanity
Scavengers closing in covering the truth again
Castrate society, fictional reality
