

You're Like Coming Home

Emerson Drive

Ridin' restless under a broken sky
Weary traveler, something missin' inside
Always lookin' for a reason to turn aroundDesperate for a little peace of mind
Just a bit of what I left behind, well, I found it now
Oh, you're like coming homeYou're like a Sunday morning, pleasin' my eyes
You're a mid-summer's dream under a star-soaked sky
That peaceful, easy feelin' at the end of a long, long roadYou're like comin' home
You're like comin' home
You're like comin' homeGo ahead let your hair fall down
The wanderlust is gone now
Here in your arms, I'm safe from the world againThese are the days that can't be erased
Baby, there isn't a better place, you're like Heaven
Oh, you're like comin' homeYou're like a Sunday morning, pleasin' my eyes
You're a mid-summer's dream under a star-soaked sky
That peaceful, easy feelin' at the end of a long, long roadYou're like comin' home
You're like comin' home
You're like comin' homeOh, you're that innocence
That serenity
That long lost part of meYou're like a Sunday morning, pleasin' my eyes
You're a mid-summer's dream under a star-soaked sky
That peaceful, easy feelin' at the end of a long, long roadYou're like a Sunday morning, pleasin' my eyes
You're a mid-summer's dream under a star-soaked sky
That peaceful, easy feelin' at the end of a long, long roadYou're like comin' home
You're like comin' home
Oh, you're like comin' home
