Sparkle Like You Fade

Jason Rubero

Dark
The world's so dark (so black)
I light a candle
But I still can't see a thing

Small
The world's so small
Small as my lifetime
It's bigger than dreamers
But smaller than their dreams

We all toil
In this mortal coil
But do not be afraid
Just sparkle like you fade

Time, the brittle teeth of time
We dull with memories
Time, the brittle teeth of time
Though memories dull themselves
You know that it hurts me

Loud
The world's so loud
But I'm not listening
I'm dreaming of quiet times
No I don't hear a thing

We all toil
In this mortal coil
But do not be afraid
Just sparkle like you fade

Time, the brittle teeth of time
We dull with memories
Time, the brittle teeth of time
Though memories dull themselves
You know that it hurts me
